Chris,

We just submitted an EJ review request for a construction permit (application #17070024) for a new hot mix asphalt plant. When the application was received in July, we had problems submitting the review and then we dropped the ball until today. The 90th day for the application will be on Sunday, October 15th. This means that we effectively have until Friday to process this application. Is it possible to have an expedited review of the EJ request we submitted? The Review Request is #2073.

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the URL <http://epa084dweb1/EJOutReach/Home/RequestDetail/2073>. The page header for the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency includes a logo and navigation links for 'Site Search' and 'Review Status'. The user is logged in as 'ILINOIS\Bob.Bernoteit'. The main content area is titled 'EJ Review Request #2073' and contains a 'PDF' button. The information is organized into two sections: 'Site/Facility Information' and 'Application Information'. The 'Site/Facility Information' section lists details such as Site Name (MAT Asphalt LLC), Site ID (170002238816), Bureau Site ID (031600QKI), Bureau (AIR), Address (2055 West Pershing Road), City/State/Zip (Chicago, Illinois 60609), Contact Name (Michael tadin), Contact Title (MBR), Contact Address (2055 West Pershing Road), Contact City/State/Zip (Chicago, Illinois 60609), Phone, and Email (mtadinjr@marinacartage.com). The 'Application Information' section lists Reference Number (17070024), Activity Type (Permit), Activity Subtype (CAAPP), Application Scope/Description (Hot Mix Asphalt Plant), Other Relevant Information, Request Submitted (10/11/2017), Submitted by (David.Taylor), Application Received (7/18/2017), Decision Due (10/31/2017), Reviewer Name (David.Taylor), Review Status (Review Pending), and Review Status Notes. At the bottom, it states 'Ready for Issuance/Next Steps: No'. The footer of the page indicates '© 2017 - IEPA Environmental Justice' and 'Working Files Folder'.

Chris,

Thank you for letting me know.

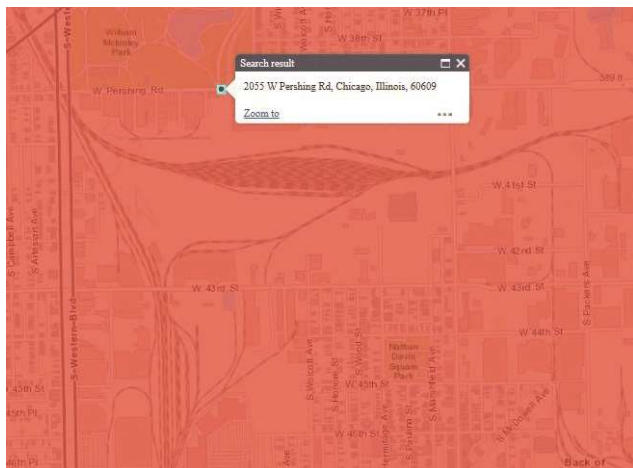

David, please submit an EJ review request. You may need to wait to do it tomorrow because ICEMAN may need to update the EJ database overnight.

David –

In the future, make sure the database entry adequately explains the nature of the project. The entry as received below makes this appear to be an application for a CAAPP permit but Bob indicated that it was a construction permit.

Bob –

As you can see from the email traffic today, we are endeavoring to get the EJ notification out today. I am a bit concerned about the significant shortening of the timeframe given the nature of the project (i.e., a new facility versus a modification to an existing facility). Ideally, we want a minimum of one or two weeks from time EJ notification is sent to permit issuance in order for us to gage the level of public interest in a proposed IEPA action.
If the permit must proceed without delay, so be it, but obviously not an ideal situation.

Chris,

We just submitted an EJ review request for a construction permit (application #17070024) for a new hot mix asphalt plant. When the application was received in July, we had problems submitting the review and then we dropped the ball until today. The 90th day for the application will be on Sunday, October 15th. David –

In the future, make sure the database entry adequately explains the nature of the project. The entry as received below makes this appear to be an application for a CAAPP permit but Bob indicated that it was a construction permit.

Chris,

Thank you for your efforts to get the EJ notice out today. I apologize for not making the request sooner, but when I first tried the I.D. # was not available in the EJ Review site. We should have followed up over the next few days after the application was initially received.

David has reached out to MAT's consultant (Don Sutton) and has requested a waiver. Don said that he would speak to his client and let us know. The waiver would only be for two or three weeks in order to facilitate the EJ notice.

Bob –

As you can see from the email traffic today, we are endeavoring to get the EJ notification out today. I am a bit concerned about the significant shortening of the timeframe given the nature of the project (i.e., a new facility versus a modification to an existing facility). Ideally, we want a minimum of one or two weeks from time EJ notification is sent to permit issuance in order for us to gage the level of public interest in a proposed IEPA action.

If the permit must proceed without delay, so be it, but obviously not an ideal situation.

Chris,

We just submitted an EJ review request for a construction permit (application #17070024) for a new hot mix asphalt plant. When the application was received in July, we had problems submitting the review and then we dropped the ball until today. The 90th day for the application will be on Sunday, October 15th. This means that we effectively have until Friday to process this application.

Is it possible to have an expedited review of the EJ request we submitted? The Review Request is #2073.

Good morning Michael,

My name is Elizabeth Rupel and I work in the Community Relations Office at the Illinois EPA. On October 12, I sent an Environmental Justice (EJ) Notification to you and others on the distribution list for Chicago (see attached document). We send EJ Notifications if a facility operates in an environmental justice area. The letters are just to give advance notice of what a facility is requesting to do and provides an opportunity to recipients of the letter to respond to our office with any questions. Unfortunately, the letter did not make its way to you and was returned to our office perhaps due to an incorrect address (2055 West Pershing Rd. Chicago, IL?). I am writing to you today to make sure you still receive the letter and contact list (attached).

If you have any other questions feel free to call or email me.
